CHANGE IN THE ARMY UNIFORM IS SUGGESTED

for the face is suggested, the service hat to be retained for field service and the target range, where objections exist to the stiff helmet.

Until a suitable uniform is provided for men on pass, it seems likely that another effort will be made to secure the right to wear civilian clothes for enlisted men. However, a white uniform, with ordinary trousers, and a white pith helmet, is being suggested, and it is known that General Edwards, after a careful study of the situation, is strongly in favor of this uniform for the men of his brigade. The present mud-colored garb with tight leggings, is unsuitable for wear after retreat, or on pass, and it is believed that the unpopularity of this particular uniform has a good deal to do with the scarcity of reenlistments. The present local military administration is deeply concerned over the popularity of the service in Hawaii, and is giving considerable thought to improving existing conditions.

Disciplinary Company.
The formation of disciplinary company, to be composed of general prisoners who would serve their sentence here instead of being sent to the mainland, has been suggested and it is likely that such an organization will be formed, according to recent plans of the war department.

The system of military imprisonment has been greatly modified of late, and corrective rather than punitive methods applied to those whose offenses are purely military. The plan now being considered is to form a permanent prison company here, giving the men the full benefit of rewards and privileges and using their labor in the improvement of Schofield Barracks and other army posts on the island, as the same are most needed.

TOM QUINN AT WHEEL AS CAR KILLS CHILD

not to hold Quinn, who was released upon his own recognizance. The driver returning to Honolulu visited the police station where he related his story to Captain Dan Kamahu and was told that he was free to go until called before Sheriff Rose.

J. W. Weinberg, when asked for a statement by the Star-Bulletin, gave a brief but clear account of what he saw.

"I hired Tom to take me down to Waipahu yesterday, as I had to collect some bills down there. At Waipahu we met a man who is overseeing the construction of the branch telephone exchange there, and as he was anxious to come back to the city, we picked him up.

"On our way home, I was in the rear seat and half asleep, so I cannot say definitely just what did happen. I heard Quinn sound his horn three times and then I saw these three children ahead of us. Two of them got out of the way, but the other crossed the road, I could not see just how she was struck.

"Two physicians were in a car behind us and they helped us after the accident happened. I carried the girl myself.

"I have not ridden much in the large touring cars and cannot estimate our speed, but do not think we were going fast at all. I know the car was stopped in a second after the accident. The thing occurred at 4:30 or 4:45 and of course it was broad daylight.

In response to questions, Weinberg said that he and Quinn had had a drink at Alea, but that it was 1:30 in the afternoon and Quinn was not in any way under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred.

Sheriff Rose and Deputy Sheriff Aech had not been informed of the fatality until ten-thirty this morning when a very brief report of the death of the little girl was discovered buried in the midst of a collection of data concerning a host of petty offenses and misdemeanors.

"I do not intend to do anything about the matter until I hear from Deputy Sheriff Fernandez," said Sheriff Rose, when asked if he would take action to an extent of holding Quinn for investigation.

This question was asked Sheriff Rose in view of the fact that D. R. Clement, driver of machine number 1309, who is alleged to have collided with and killed an aged Chinese, named Del Koon on last Saturday afternoon, is now an inmate of the city and county jail, facing a charge of manslaughter, subject to action taken by the grand jury.

Quinn was notified by Deputy Sheriff Fernandez to be present at Pearl City court house on Monday evening when the jury selected to investigate the death of the little child might complete its inquest.

According to Quinn, the father of the child is a luna at Waipahu plantation and he exonerated the driver of any blame for the death of the girl.

Quinn's car is in the rent service.

Professor Alfred M. Tozzer of Harvard University, who, with Mrs. Tozzer, was a recent witness of much of the Mexican revolutionary excitement, addressed members and guests of the University Club at luncheon today.

Criticizing the Wilson administration for its failure to recognize Huerta and declaring that the happy outcome of the present situation is extremely doubtful, Professor Tozzer spoke from the point of view of an onlooker at Vera Cruz and Mexico City from last November until a few weeks ago.

He said that even if Huerta should resign, the action is not likely to end disorder, because of the rival forces of Zapata and the Constitutionalists under Gen. Villa and President Carranza.

Professor Tozzer gave some interesting sidelights on Mexican affairs. He spoke of going to the legation at Mexico City and there seeing a rather uncouth individual smoking a corncob pipe. Later he observed that he would like to see John Lind, Wilson's special envoy, and was then told that the man with the corncob pipe was the famous Lind. Professor Tozzer says that with such an adviser it is not strange that affairs should have proceeded as they have done.

President A. F. Griffiths of Oahu College presided at the luncheon.

Fred M. Kahina, delegates to the territorial convention—W. H. Crawford, John K. Nottley, D. K. Bent and John Kekaula.

Templeton, treasurer; executive committee—W. C. Thomas, J. M. Templeton, W. D. McWayne, R. A. Howes and E. E. Hell-bush; judges of election—no names given; delegates to the territorial convention—A. Fire caused by sparks from a neighboring chimney brought the department to the office of the Paradise of the Pacific last evening. But little damage was done owing to the timely assistance of pedestrians who saw the blaze.

Hilde Comas, a passenger in a King street Rapid Transit car, attempted to dismount from the vehicle while in motion last evening, falling to the pavement. He received several nasty bruises and cuts that necessitated his removal to this hospital for treatment.

IN SLANG, HE WAS "ALL TO THE CANDY"

To find a means of creating the best possible impression upon the first meeting, many a young man is sorely taxed.

It is safe to say that any ardent youth, who arms himself with a box of Orange Blossom Candy from the Honolulu Drug Co., before making that "first call" will create a real regard for himself in the esteem of his "lady fair." Then afterwards he can credit his success "all to the candy." advertisement.

REFORM CONTEMPLATED

(Special Cable to the Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, Japan, June 5.—Premier Count S. Okumura, Baron K. Hotano, minister of the imperial household, and K. Ichiki, minister of education, today held a secret session at the imperial palace. It is said that there was a discussion of a proposed plan to reform the emperor's household department. This reform was adjudged necessary at the time when Count C. Watanabe is alleged to have received a bribe from the Hongwanji mission regarding the sale of a portion of land belonging to the mission. Count Watanabe formerly was minister of the imperial household.

A Weak Heart

"An interesting British report suggests that science has prolonged the lives of very young city folks, but not of the middle-aged. A series of tables compiled from reports of the Registrar-General and covering seventy years shows that for males between five and ten years of age the death rate has declined sixty-four per cent, while for those between forty-five and fifty-five years of age it has declined only three per cent—and for the next decade there is an actual increase of mortality. For both men and women between the ages of forty-five and sixty-five there is no decrease in the death rate. Doctor Newsholme finds that for both men and women in this period of middle life diseases of the heart and blood-vessels were registered as the causes of about one-third of the total deaths.

"Apparently, then, for those who reach middle life in fairly good physical condition the heart is the chief source of danger. Fortunately everybody knows that excessive use of intoxicants and tobacco and coffee weaken the heart.

"At this season, when New Year's vows are falling like leaves of autumn, we abstain from urging anybody to stop drinking or smoking or over-indulgence in coffee. Go ahead—if you think your heart will stand it!"
